Press Release

JBuddy™ Message Server v3.1 released - FREE workgroup license and support for XMPP clients eases deployment.

JBuddy Message Server v3.1, Zion Software's enterprise instant messaging server now includes a FREE 10-concurrent-client license for workgroups and small departments and adds support for popular XMPP client login through a new XMPP Client gateway.

Glastonbury, Connecticut - April 1, 2009 – Privately-held Zion Software, LLC today announced the release of JBuddy™ Message Server v3.1, a commercially supported, cross-platform enterprise instant messaging and presence server solution. Out of the box, JBuddy Message Server v3.1 includes a 10-concurrent-client license to support small departments and workgroups wishing to deploy JBuddy Message Server at no cost. Additionally, v3.1 adds a more secure authentication scheme and a new XMPP Client Gateway which enables XMPP compatible clients in addition to JBuddy Messenger to connect to the JBuddy Message Server.

“Businesses of all sizes are under great financial pressure nowadays, yet asked to be more secure and responsive with less. With today's release of JBuddy Message Server version 3.1, we've decided to do our part to help. Beginning today, we've included a FREE 10-concurrent-user license for our enterprise instant messaging solution, JBuddy Message Server. We're more secure and more open.” said David Ferrero, Founder and CTO, Zion Software.
